EDITORS DECIDE ON FORT SMITH

Will Hold State Meeting There in May and Then Take Jaunt Over the State in a Special Train.

The spring meeting of the Arkansas Press Association was held in the Supreme Court room at the state house yesterday. About 30 members were present, and the meeting was a very harmonious one. The meeting, while regular in every respect as meeting of publishers, was devoted to be held at Fort Smith in May.

There were several papers read, but the election are important. One of these asked for passage of a resolution requiring all state banks to publish quarterly statements similar to those of national banks. Another asked about a bill to be introduced in the legislature providing for the appointment of a committee to see newspaper in each county in the state, and another called for the passage of a law to prevent all. The committee has been appointed by Governor Hunt, and the legislature was asked to kill it.

The association held a short meeting after the business of the convention was completed.

Fort Smith Meeting Plans.

The selection of Fort Smith as the place for holding the annual meeting was almost unanimous. Only one vote was cast in favor of the Mena-Boonel, and Paul's Valley, I. T., Press Club. DONAGHEY FAVORS NEW COMMISSION

Governor Says All Those Connected With New State House Should Be Discharged and State Take Charge.

SAYS CONTRACT IS TENTATIVE

Thinks Building Can Be Completed Within 12 Months by His Plan—Says $1,000,000 Would Be Saved.

Governor George W. Donaghey would open up a new chapter of one of the best cartoons of Arkansas, thoroughly completed to perform the duties of the position, for the purpose of classifying the work on the new state house. This statement is contained in a special message sent to the Senate yesterday in which the governor urges the duty of abolishing the present commission and the duty of the governor for the completion of the building. He states also that the names of all those who have been connected with the work to the time it has been done or charged, he proposes to ask that he be authorized to appoint this commission, of which he would be an ex-officio member.

Much Interest in Senate.

Although the message was not read, it undoubtedly was the feature of the senate session. The message was received with applause from the galleries when the senate opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and it was not long before the senate adopted a resolution asking Governor Donaghey to read the message to the senate. In brief, he said the governor has given up hope of the present commission ever completing the building, and asking formal answers to four questions. The first question is the cost of completion under the contract with Caldwell & Drake. The second question is the cost of completion under the plan of the governor, figures which the governor has agreed to give the senate when he does so, and how long it would take to finish the building under the plan of the governor and also when the acting would be to the state.

Governor Answers Quickly.

The resolution was submitted to Governor Donaghey yesterday morning, and during the afternoon he sent a special message to the senate giving answers to the questions asked. In brief, he said the contract with Caldwell & Drake was given him as a matter of tentative nature that it may be seen that there was no agreement between the contract has nothing whereby in in with the rest of the state and that the Pennsylvania capitol, the cost might run up to $4,000,000 or $5,000,000.

Says He Wants to Be Fair.

In the governor's play relative to the cost of the completion of the building he says that first everybody connected with the work must be discharged and that the question of cost finally come to the matter of the state the legislature desires to spend.

He says he has given the plans in detail showing the difference between the cost of completion under the plan he has suggested and the contract now held by Caldwell & Drake.

Would Let Bids Be Opened.

The governor's plan

Is Lincoln Held Loved.

"If Lincoln Had Lived" was the subject of a centenary address delivered at Philadelphia by John W. Forney, of that city, who was a member of the "California regiment," the first of the Pennsylvania line, before W. L. Curry Post, No. 18, Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. Forney said that if Abraham Lincoln had lived the fell four years of his second term, instead of short four weeks only, there would never have been written into the political annals of the United States that term "reconstruction" as the accepted status. It created by Thaddeus Stevens, Edwin M. Stanton, Charles Sumner and Ben Wade; that there would have been no "carpet bag governments" in eleven of the Southern states.

In his eulogized address, on March 4, 1865, Mr. Lincoln said:

"Apprehension seems to exist among the people of the Southern states, that by the accession of a Republican administration their property and their peace and personal security are to be endangered. There has never been any reasonable cause for such apprehension indeed, the most ample evidence to the contrary has all the while existed and been open for years. While the speeches of his competitors were extensively published, I have not seen in any of them even a single assertion that I was in favor of interfering, or have any inclination to interfere, with the institution of slavery in the states where it exists. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so. Those who nominated and elected me did so with the full knowledge that I had made this and many similar declarations and had never retracted them."

Lincoln said in this address that the action of the states in proposing the amendment to the constitution, and his message to the special session of Congress had met on July 4, 1861, President Lincoln said:

"Then came the overt act, following and agreeing with the long series of like acts, set on foot for the extension of slavery. Fort Sumter was assaulted, bombarded and reduced, and the war was thus opened upon the government and the people. Then they invoked the military service of the country to repress the rebellion, which had thus begun, and to maintain the government and to collect the revenues; and they have called forth their militia and other forces, and have seized and now hold many of the forts, arsenals, dock-yards, custom-houses and other property belonging to the government, and have expelled its officers, and refused to pay its debts, or to allow others to pay them, and have blockaded and attacked its ships, and have commenced and waged war against the government, and have sought to subvert the government of the United States, and to overthrow the constitution, and the liberties of the people, and to destroy the rights of all persons, whether citizens or aliens, within the limits of the United States, which depend upon the constitution and the laws, and that, by the authority of no different people, and standing of the powers and duties of the government, and the rights of the life, liberty and property of the people under the constitution, than that supposed to be delegated address. He desires to preserve the government, that it may be administered for all, as it was administered by the men who made it."

With his retinal eulogy on Lincoln on December 9, 1863, President Lincoln cast a prophetic ray saying that if each of the seceded states would re-establish a state government, republican in form, it should be recognized as the true government of the state, and "the state shall have thereunder the benefits of the constitutional provision which declares that the United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion and domestic violence." Of course such a state government could be formed only by persons who would take the oath and obey it.

This problem Lincoln said further:

"And it is suggested as not improper, that, when such a state government shall be re-inaugurated, the name, and, perhaps, the state, the boundaries, the constitution, and the general code of laws, as before the rebellion, be adopted, subject only to the modification, or abrogation of such parts of the constitution, and of the laws and proclamations which were made for the suppression of the rebellion."

"Now it is plain that reconstruction, as to the states lately in rebellion, is fully inaugurated, as to a state government of republican form, as soon as any one such state shall have been organized and have come up into practical relation with the national government. It remains to be only seen how such state shall be organized, and by what means it shall come into its proper practical relation. Should only a few persons, not more than a fraction of the whole number qualified, attempt this, they could not be recognized as competent to make the new state government. Hence the first thing to be done is to ascertain, or otherwise determine, who are competent to begin the work, according to the standard of the old state government. For this purpose, I think the states may safely enough be left each to act for itself. To be sure, some one must judge in each case, without which there could be no action. Yet no one's power to act can be questioned after action is taken. Should two or more persons claim to be governments, each pretending to be the true one, I shall recognize neither, but will await the decision of Congress, in case Congress shall assemble in time. Seeing no such claimants now, I shall decide the question for myself, if it shall arise before Congress shall have acted upon it."

Short Stories

PUTTING THEM ASUNDER.

A man approached the box office of the Palace theater recently and requested the clerk on the desk open the location for him.

The treasurer looked out. Was I open it to, and after scrutinizing the stranger closely, asked him how come my that were for?

"Oh, No I mean on the side, don't you know."

"Sure."

"Where's No. 6, then?"

"Right you next door to it."

"Did I understand you to say seats on the side?"

"Yes, and give you the seats to settle, then," pounded the box office sagaciously.

"That's just the point, young man. I don't want to be put next to the seats. I expect you put them some the better" said the man as he left the office.

THE SORT OF SOUP IT WAS.

The waiter at the uptown lunch counter watched the supper-seeker with a critical eye as he scanned the bill of fare and perused once the New York item. He looked expectantly toward the waiter as he finished, ready for some one to say something as a starter.

Each of the eats carried a glass of beer and the waiter knew that the man opposite was to get some lunch. The smallest of the eats was a bowl of soup, and the waiter knew that the man opposite was the one who asked anxiously: "What kind of soup is that?"

Then he paused and smiled upon his self-made audience in Arkansas.

"Those fishermen recently removed by the new authority put together by one of them at the museum mingled was condemned. Then they made a soup of it."

As had as a pig saw parade, isn't it?

National Chauffeurs Meet Today

Schools Have Been Established to Teach Auto Drivers—Both Theory and Practice Are Included in the Instruction—Some Places Chauffeur Must Pass Examination for License—Feminine Chauffeur May Be Good or Bad.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The National Chauffeurs' Association will hold its regular meeting in this city today. Thirty have been other national gather ings, but this promises more to have been of importance than any that has yet been held. The first professional chauffeurs of the U. S. Railroads

MUCH SHIFTING IN EXPRESS BUSINESS

Wells-Fargo Loses Many Southern Lines, but Gets the Milwaukee and Will Get Mexican Lines.

Contemporaneous with the announcement that the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific will dispossess the Wells-Fargo Company of the express franchise of the Choctaw division of the Rock Island, comes the announcement of a large number of contracts made by the United States Express Company, which will give that concern the express service of half of the Western and Southern systems. Among the railroads embraced in the new contracts made by the company to take effect July 1 or shortly after are the following:

Beaumont, Sour Lake and Western, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago Rock Island and Pacific, Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf, Chicago, Rock Island and El Paso, Colorado and Southern, New Orleans and Pacific, Evansville and Terre Haute; Fort Worth and Rio Grande, Orange and Northwestern, Paris and Great Northern; St. Louis and San Francisco; St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas, Trinity and Brazos Valley.

While its loss of Southern and Western roads has been general, the Wells-Fargo Company has secured the service on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, which system has given up its plan for an express system of its own. The express service on the new line to the Pacific coast, as well as on the existing lines of the system will be furnished by the Wells-Fargo Company after May 1. The United States Express Company will continue to operate on the lines of the St. Paul proper until May 1. The Continental Express Company, organized by the railway company, and which is now operating the new Pacific coast extension as far as Butte, will be dissolved.

The Wells-Fargo Company, whose concession to operate over the Mexican Central expired January 1, is now operating under a temporary agreement made last October, with the understanding that at some time in the near future it will take over the express business on all government-controlled railroads in Mexico. The arrangement probably will become effective immediately after the merger of the national lines with the Mexican Central goes into effect.

TO USE ALL-STEEL PASSENGER CARS

Rock Island Takes Lead in Ordering New Style of Construction in Building Through Service Equipment.

After a careful investigation of the efficiency of the all-steel constructed cars, the management of the Rock Island has decided to adopt this style of car for all of its passenger service. Contracts were let yesterday to the American Car and Foundry Company for the immediate construction of 60 all-steel cars for service on the through trains of the Rock Island.

Delivery of these cars will begin early next May, and by the last of that month all of the order, which contemplates an expenditure of more than $1,000,000, will be in service. Following the adoption of the steel cars on through trains, that style of cars will be extended to the remainder of the Rock Island trains.

Other Western roads have been experimenting with all-steel cars for the past several years.

to the Interstate Commerce Commission, at its hearing here February 18, that freight rates to Texas and the Southwest, which were advanced by the railroads last August, are making serious inroads into the business of this city to the advantage of New York and other centers of commerce and near the Atlantic seaboard. One representative manufacturer declares that he will show a loss of 50 per cent in his business with Texas, due to the unfair transportation rates.

STATION MASTER TAKES A RUN

Conductor Didn't Appear, So W. O. Smith Runs the Train.

Station Master W. G. Smith of the Rock Island is a versatile man. His accomplishments are not by any means limited to doling out information as to what train one should take to go to Punxsutawney or Tonganoxie or Kalamazoo, or to the more strenuous duties of helping overloaded travelers find their trains and hunting stray, hopefuls for fond mamas. Not at all. Mr. Smith knows the railroad game from A to Z and he's a great utility man, being able to play the infield, outfield, the box and often don the windpad and mask, according to the best revised baseball vernacular applied to railroad work.

A misunderstanding caused passenger No. 613, bound for Hot Springs, yesterday morning to be without a conductor. As the hour of departure drew nigh no conductor appeared, and Mr. Smith took up the punch and donned the conductor's cap and uniform. He used to be a conductor a few years agone and it was just like old times to him. He completed the run and returned at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Meanwhile, in the absence of Mr. Smith, Patrolman Bennett called out the arrival and departure of the trains.

THROUGH SHREVEPORT CARS

Iron Mountain Arranges a Service Out of Little Rock.

The local Iron Mountain passenger officials have received notice that beginning February 20, the Iron Mountain will establish a through service from St. Louis to Shreveport. Connections will be established with the Kansas City Southern at Texarkana. The train which will make this connection will be No. 7, the fast mail, which at present passes through Little Rock at 10.50 a. m. The new service will greatly better traveling conditions between Shreveport and vicinity and Little Rock.

LINCOLN MENU CARD.

The Rock Island system has issued a beautiful Lincoln Centenary menu card for use on all of the lines of the system today. It is one of the costliest souvenir menu cards ever issued by a railroad. At the top of the first page of the card are the dates 1809-909 and in the center of the first page is a striking likeness of the martyred president, finished in colors. Beneath the picture are the words: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right."

F. A. MOLITOR GOES.

F. A. Molitor, formerly chief engineer of the Choctaw, the Midland Valley and other railroads in this section, and whose headquarters were located at Little Rock until 1903, left Little Rock last night for Hot Springs. Mr. Molitor has been in Little Rock for the past three days visiting his old friends and associates. He remained at the home of George H. Lee, general passenger agent for the Rock Island, while here.

After leaving the service of the Choctaw, Mr. Molitor became an expert engineer in the government service in the Philippine Islands. His work there was connected with the government railroads. He is now located in New York, his engineering office being situated on Wall street.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The state legislature of California is considering the constitutional amendment which, if adopted, would give the state the right to construct railways to be maintained for the common good. A similar measure introduced in the lower house of the same legislature several years ago was defeated.

The breaking down of a freight car at McRae, a small station 38 miles south of Little Rock, on the Iron Mountain, delayed No. 7, the fast mail, for two hours yesterday.

A. V. Brown, manager of the Missouri and North Arkansas at Eureka Springs, visited the offices of the Railroad Commission yesterday.

A. C. Anderson, traveling passenger agent for the Pennsylvania lines, was in Little Rock yesterday.

L. W. Price, division passenger agent for the Frisco, with headquarters at Joplin, visited the local railroad offices yesterday.

Owen Durham, traveling passenger agent for the Illinois Central, was in Little Rock yesterday.

R. H. Laing, assistant general passenger agent for the Cotton Belt, with headquarters at St. Louis, was in Little Rock yesterday.

W. C. Peeler, district passenger agent for the Cotton Belt, visited local railroad offices while in Little Rock yesterday.

The St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern's new extension from Ziegler, Ill., Joe Leiter's mining camp, to Benton, Ill., will be opened for traffic at once. The extension makes the Gould road a formidable rival to the Illinois Central, Chicago and Eastern Illinois and Burlington for the much-sought-after coal trade of Franklin county.

T. E. Brogan, soliciting freight and passenger agent for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, with headquarters located at Joplin, arrived in Little Rock yesterday after a trip through the lumber regions of Arkansas. He will leave for Fort Smith this morning.

R. P. Mount, traveling freight agent for the Maple Leaf route, visited the local railroad offices yesterday. He is returning to his headquarters at St. Joseph after an extended trip through Arkansas and the Southwest.

HOW I MADE MY HAIR GROW

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results.

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed, many of them made my hair greasy so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious, and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures I finally found a simple prescription, which I used with most remarkable results, and I can unhesitatingly state that it is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair, and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition; it also makes the hair much easier to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months, and during that time it not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all his gray hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows:

Bay rum, 6 ounces; Menthol crystals, 1-2 drachm; Lavona de Composee, 2 ounces; To-Kalon perfume, 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls.

Apply night and morning; rub thoroughly into the scalp.

Go to your druggist and ask for an eight-ounce bottle containing six ounces of bay rum; also one-half drachm of Menthol crystals, and for a two-ounce bottle of Lavona de Composee. Mix the ingredients yourself at your own home. Add the Menthol crystals to the bay rum and then pour Lavona de Composee, and add the To-Kalon perfume. Let it stand for one-half hour and it is ready for use.

Governor Donaghey Names Successor to the Late Senator Nance—Both Are From the Same City.

Fleming Freeman of Rogers was yesterday appointed to fill the vacancy in the Senate made by the death of Senator Robert L. Nance in the Thirty-fourth senatorial district.

A large number of petitions were sent to the governor suggesting the names of various persons for the place, but of all the recommendations, that sent by influential men of Benton county appealed to Governor Donaghey more strongly than any of the others, and the appointment followed.

Senator Freeman will probably arrive today in Little Rock and take up his duties in the Senate. He is widely interested in business in his section of the state and is directly in the lime business. He is from the same city as the late Senator Nance and was a close friend of the senator's.

Check Up

Checks tell the tale. When a person has his bank book balanced at the end of the month and receives the canceled checks, he reads a chapter on his financial character. Generally he is somewhat embarrassed by his doings because he thought himself a better man. But there is nothing better than to look one's self in the face; and, compared with the person who never realizes his doings, there is an immense advantage to the check reader.

Reading checks makes people careful and, as there is nothing better for one's worldly welfare, we advise every one to keep up with himself (and with his enemies) through a checking account with the

An injunction against the Little Rock Railway and Electric Company to prevent it from occupying a portion of the sidewalk in making a turn at Twenty-third and Main, is asked by L. F. CONGRESS HONORS LINCOLN

As Far as Possible Today Is Made a Special Holiday.

Washington, Feb. 11.—By joint resolution late today Congress made provision, as far as possible, for the observance of February 12, 1909, the centennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, as a special holiday and authorized the president to issue a proclamation making it effective in the District of Columbia and the territories of Alaska, Arizona, New Mexico and Hawaii.

In anticipation of the passage of such a resolution after he had departed for Lincoln's birthplace in Kentucky, the president had prepared and signed a proclamation which was issued as soon as the joint resolution had been signed by the president of the Senate and the speaker of the house.

While this proclamation applies only to the District of Columbia and the territories, fourteen states have, by legislation, made Lincoln's birthday a legal holiday.

FIRE IN MRS. HAMMILL'S HOUSE

Servant Badly Burned From Polishing Stove With Inflammable Substance.

After returning from the cemetery, where she had placed flowers on the grave of her husband, James T. Hammill, who died at El Paso and was buried here this week, Mrs. Hammill stopped at the house of a friend to take luncheon yesterday morning. While there she called up her home, 309 East Fourth street, by phone to inform the household where she was and to ascertain how things were going on at the house. She was informed over her phone by a neighbor that the house was afire.

The negro servant, "Maudy," in polishing a stove had used a mixture containing an inflammable oil. The rag caught fire and was dropped on the floor, setting fire to the carpet, on which some of the polish was strewn. In her endeavors to put out the flames, the woman's dress caught fire and she was badly burned. The damage to the furnishings was $150.

ODD THINGS IN NEWS OF THE DAY

Watchdog Tied Tight to Safe—Safe Gone—$300 Gone—Dog Gone—Robbers Take Whole Thing.

Tacoma.—Tony Christi owns a candy store.

Once he owned $300.

Once he owned a watchdog—and other things.

In the palmy days Tony was just about the sunniest son of Sunny It. that ever struck these parts. But not now, not now.

Tony was flossy, all right. He makes money selling sweets to Tacoma belles and the senoritas of the Italian colony are numerous whenever he shows above the horizon.

After Tony had collected the $300 he got real proud of it. But he never let it get out of sight by day—only by night. When he departed for his home at midnight he used to nail the "wad" to the floor and then put the floor in the safe.

Then came the watchdog. Tony thought he could better guard the treasure house.

Last night he had a hunch to tie the dog to the safe, thereby to better insure the wealth hoarded therein.

He did. And then he departed in peace.

But in the morning—"Ah-h-h Sapristi!" Somebode got in da store in da night. Burglar man, he steal a ma safe; take a ma mon, run away wid ma watch adog. Ah-h-h h."

"Sapristi!"

TALES SCARED HIM TO SUICIDE.

Salem, N. J.—Brooding over stories which he had caused to be published during the past week, concerning an alleged murder and burial in Salem county several years ago, without any investigation by the authorities and fearing that he might be arrested as an accessory after the fact, John McPherson committed suicide here.

McPherson a few days ago aroused the people of the county by issuing a statement in which he declared that one night some five years ago, while he was on his way home, he was attracted by shots at the home of Albert and Eugene Hyde. He ran to the dwelling and saw a body of a man lying on the floor and several men and women were in the room quarreling. Some suggested, he said, that the body be cut up and this was subsequently done, the legs cut off, placed in a box and buried in the orchard on the place and the trunk of the dead man buried under the fireplace in the front room of the house. McPherson said that a party was in progress there and gave the names of several Lower Creekers who were present.

These persons denied all knowledge of the crime and made it so warm for McPherson that he threatened to commit suicide to avoid legal proceedings which the accused threatened to bring.

Because of what McPherson had alleged, the Hyde place, now owned by Theodore Smith, was thoroughly searched and some parts of the ground dug up, but nothing was revealed.

THE ROYAL ARCANUM was founded for benevolent purposes.

Backache

PROBING RATES ON BANANAS

Rock Island and Burlington Are Defendants at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Investigation of charges that the rate for shipment of bananas from New Orleans to various points in Iowa over the Illinois Central, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroads is exorbitant and higher than the rate charged for points in Illinois, was begun before Special Examiner Lyons of the Interstate Commerce Commission today.

The complainant company of Burlington, Ia., claims to represent most of the fruit dealers of that state.

HIGH POINT FOR MAY WHEAT.

New York, Feb. 11.—The highest price of the season for May wheat was reached in the produce exchange today when that option sold at $1.17 3-8 per bushel.

A scarcity of cash wheat, good export demand, higher foreign markets and the strong position of the Chicago bull leaders furnished the basis for the advance.

New crop months, while strong, were not so buoyant as the May delivery.

CURES COLDS QUICKLY.

A never-failing home remedy for coughs and colds is made from the following formula to be mixed at home:

"Two ounces of glycerine, one-half ounce of Concentrated pine compound, one-half pint of good whiskey; mix and shake thoroughly; use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours."

This will cure any cough that is curable or break up an acute cold in twenty-four hours. The ingredients all can be gotten at any drug store.

The Concentrated pine is a pine product refined for medical use and comes only in half-ounce bottles, each enclosed in a tin screw top case, which is air-tight, but be sure that it is labeled "Concentrated."

Grover Ware, Thrown From a Mule and With Hip Broken, Crawls Up Mountain to a Friend's Home.

Omaha—Graver Ware, a young man of Omaha, Boone county, in riding down a steep mountain near his home Monday, met a serious accident. The mule he was riding became frightened and made a dash down the mountain, throwing Ware against a tree, breaking his thigh and otherwise injuring him. The place where the accident occurred is little frequented, and Ware lay for hours in the road suffering and calling in vain for help. Finally he pulled himself up the mountain to the home of a friend, who gave him shelter and relieved him, as best he could, of his suffering. In drawing himself up the mountain, by bushes and saplings, all the skin on Ware's hips and shoulders was worn off. He is in a critical condition, and it is not expected that he will recover from his injuries.

BELIEVE KNOX CAN ACCEPT

Senate Passes Bill to Remove Disabilities to Next Premier.

Washington, Feb. 11.—In the belief of the Senate all constitutional objection to the appointment of Senator Knox as secretary of state in the cabinet of President Taft will be removed by the approval of the house to a bill reported from the Committee on the Judiciary by Senator Clark, its chairman, as a substitute for the Hale bill and passed by the Senate tonight.

The measure was reported early in the day and was placed upon the calendar, where it remained until the Senate was about to adjourn. In order that it might be before the House of Representatives as soon as it meets Monday, it was then passed without debate, many senators having left the chamber during the short executive session that was held, believing there would be no more legislative business transacted.

It appears to be the general impression in the house that when the bill reaches that body it will be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

HELPED TO CORNER LINCOLN'S SLAYER

Thomas Cox Knew John Wilkes Booth as a Boy and Was in Party of 100 Detailed to Capture Assassin.

Thomas Cox, of 503 East Seventh street, president of the Thos. Cox & Sons Machinery Co., who has been a resident of Arkansas and Little Rock for more than 30 years, was intimately connected with the capture of John Wilkes Booth, the slayer of Abraham Lincoln, and tells the story of the chase and capture of the actor-assassin.

At the time of Lincoln's death Mr. Cox was in the United States navy and was on the boat Gov. Buckingham. "Fighting Bob" Evans was then the ensign on the same boat.

Shortly after the battle of Fort Fisher the Gov. Buckingham became disabled near the mouth of the Cape Fear river and was ordered to the dry docks at Portsmouth for repairs. The Monticello was assigned to tow the other boat, but when the boats came near Cape Hatteras, the wind was blowing so hard they had to be cut free to keep them from being blown on the shore.

Detailed to Capture Assassin.

Shortly after the Gov. Buckingham anchored near the mouth of the river, the hands were called on deck and 100 men were ordered to go on board a Clyde steamer. Mr. Cox was among the 100 men chosen. As soon as they went aboard the steamer they were carried ashore and there thrown into a picket line and instructed to keep a sharp lookout for Booth. This was the first they had heard of the death of the president.

Two days later Booth was caught in a barn and the barn was set on fire in order to force Booth to come out. Booth had kept up a continual fight while he was in the barn and the soldiers who had him cornered were afraid to approach within his sight. In the squad was Jack Cannon, a chum of Mr. Cox. Cannon had been formerly a playmate of Booth and knew him well. Mr Cox also knew Booth, having been born and raised within a short distance of Booth's home in Baltimore.

Is Certain Booth Was Shot.

It has been claimed that Booth was never captured and that the man who was shot and taken to Washington as Booth was in reality another person. Some have gone so far as to claim they saw and talked with Booth two years after his supposed death, but the story of Jack Cannon would effectually contradict any such claim. Cannon stated to Mr. Cox that the man the soldiers fought in the barn and afterward killed as he attempted to rush from the burning structure, was the same John Wilkes Booth he had known since childhood.

When Booth rushed out of the barn in a final endeavor to get away from his pursuers, he was shot down almost as soon as he set foot outside the door, says Cannon.

Amusements

"Paid in Full" was repeated at the Capital theater yesterday afternoon and last night. The success of the piece is due not only to the clever lines and plot, but equally to the good acting and stage setting. It is one of those dramas which requires capable actors for all the parts and which, even though well acted, would still fall short if that more or less elusive quality we call "atmosphere" were not there. That atmosphere is lent by the scenery and for an attention to detail, a bit unusual in road companies, Wagenhals and Kemper, the producers of the drama, are responsible. This is in evidence in every scene alike in the genteel poverty of the flat, with garments of man and wife to match, the indications of prosperity in the second act and most of all in the finely conceived captain's land quarters in the third. There is the capstan for a table, the schooner wheel hung to the wall, models of ships, marine pictures, spears taken from head hunters, a bunk instead of a bedstead, and trophies of many voyages to strange lands. It is the sea captain's "cabin" ashore to the letter.

Sara Perry, as Mrs. Brooks, plays the part with an intelligent conception of its requirements, and it calls for some versatility. In the first act she is very natural as the loving, self-sacrificing wife, who, having married for love, makes the best of poverty and, because she loves her husband, she, of course, thinks he is badly treated by his employer and refuses to resent all her husband's petulance and ill temper. She is still ready with her sympathy when his wrongdoing is exposed and it is only when he makes the infamous proposal that she use her charms to cajole the captain into not prosecuting him that her eyes are opened to his ignoble character, and repugnance usurps the place of love. In the scene with the captain, first in the majesty of outraged womanhood and later in her breakdown, as she realizes the latent goodness of heart, she is equally capable of expressing the emotions each phase demands.

Albert Brown has a pleasing role as Jimsey, and he portrays it so admirably that the audience in recalling the principals is not satisfied until he is included in the honors.

Artistically the act of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGreevy is the best thing on the Majestic bill this week. Their impersonation of a truly rural couple is true to life. Whether in vaudeville or the legitimate there is nearly always a tendency to caricature such characters. In the work of the McGreevys there is absolutely no exaggeration. Evidently it is the result of a study from real life, and it is admirably done. In garb, in mannerisms and language they represent just what may be seen in any rural community in every state in the Union.

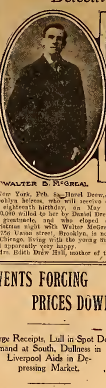
The bill is a good one generally. The other features consist of the Keatons and Buster, in their rough and tumble comedy acrobatic act; the A, B, C, D Girls, in songs and character changes, Zobedie, the great hand balancer; the Frey trio, wrestlers and exponents of physical culture. John and Mae Burke, in their comedy musical act, and Sarah Brandon and Ben S. Mears, in a farce.

The usual matinee tomorrow, when the smaller Keaton babies will appear.

Francis Wilson will be seen at the Capital theater tomorrow night, in Charles Marlow's (Mrs Jay) farce, "When Knights Were Bold." The New Orleans Item says of the piece, in part: "'When Knights Were Bold,' a scintillating farce by Charles Marlow (Mrs Jay), to the piece in which Mr. Wilson appeared. The Tulane audiences are frequently described by the adjective 'fashionable,' and consequently they feel that they are compelled to maintain a certain dignity. Sunday night the curtain had scarcely arose on the first act when suppressed mirth dominated the auditors. From smiles there gradually emanated ripples of laughter, and finally every one in the playhouse roared. Frequently Mr. Wilson was forced to pause before delivering his next lines.

"Mr. Wilson is supported by a notable company, including his daughter, Miss Adelaide Wilson. She has only a small part, but she is so sweet and winsome that she vitalizes it and makes it seem important when the play is viewed retrospectively."

Eloping Couple Who Evaded Detectives, Now in Chicago



WALTER D. McGREAL

MISS HAZEL DREW

New York, Feb. 11.—Hazel Drew, a Brooklyn heiress, who will receive on her eighteenth birthday, on May 1, $150,000 willed to her by Daniel Drew, her greatuncle, and who eloped on Christmas night with Walter McGreal of 758 Union street, Brooklyn, is now in Chicago, living with the young man and apparently very happy.

Mrs. Edith Drew Hall, mother of the girl, of 272 Sixth avenue, Brooklyn, who swore out a warrant for the arrest of McGreal on a charge of abduction and who sent detectives in search of the couple, failed to find any trace of them. The discovery of the whereabouts of the eloping couple came through a letter written by the young man to his father, T. J. McGreal, under date of January 10.

EVENTS FORCING PRICES DOWN

Large Receipts, Lull in Spot Demand at South, Dullness in Liverpool Aids in Depressing Market.

New York, Feb. 11.—Events of one kind or another have forced prices downward, but on every decline the market has encountered buying orders which have acted as a sort of automatic support. These are accounted for largely by reports of dry weather, both east and west of the Mississippi river. Spinners' takings have been increasing and once more visible supplies of all kinds of cotton have begun to decrease more rapidly after a brief lull, than a year ago. Some of the dry goods reports, too, have been rather more cheerful.

A sharp falling off in the crop movement is predicted by some for the near future.

At the moment, however, large receipts, the lull in the spot demand at the South—though liberal sales have been made at New York—dullness and depression in Liverpool and a very large stock have a more or less clogging if not depressing effect on the market. Weather conditions east of the Mississippi have latterly been relieved in a measure, at least, by rains. Heavy liquidation has taken place and prominent spot interests have been large sellers, it is understood, of May and July, even if they bought some October. Liverpool, the South and Wall street have sold, but Texas is dry and the whole South needs rain. A cold backward spring that might cut down the acreage is one of the existing bug bears. Heavy selling of March and May and buying of October were the features on Thursday.

BIG GIFT TO FUND TO DEFEND ENGLAND

Alarm Over Possible Invasion Causes Remarkable Contribution to Esher's Recruiting Fund.

London.—England apparently is in a panic over the possibility of invasion by a hostile army. Numerous incidents following the production of the play, "An Englishman's Home," built on such a possibility, show the state of mind of the general public.

Lord Esher, having appealed through The Daily Mail for 11,000 volunteers to complete the quota of the county of London in the territorial army, an anonymous reader has sent to him a check for $50,000 to assist in the work of recruiting this force.

The solemn warnings which Lord Roberts has been uttering for two years and the fervid speeches which Mr. Haldane, the minister of war, has been making all over the country, have done their work, and suddenly, under the influence of the realistic play, the whole people have awakened to a realization of what war would mean. Nothing is talked of in the street, the club, the home, except the defense of the island.

Efforts, which can be described only as frenzied, are being made to recruit the territorial army. The vaunted efficiency of the navy is more than suspected as its condition is closely inspected. The admiralty is asking the government for authority to lay down six dreadnoughts this year. This is a panic program, and, taken in connection with the fresh concentration of naval strength in the North Sea—most inopportunely announced on the eve of the king's departure for Berlin—is sufficient evidence of the hollow mockery of the pretense that England and Germany are prepared to abandon their mutual suspicions.

Among the declarations in Herr Stein's book on the kaiser which is exercising diplomatic circles here is one to the effect that the present home-defense agitation in England is really the consequence of a demand by France which requires England to create a big standing army before she will allow the entente to develop into a formal alliance. Herr Stein proceeds:

"The funds for augmenting the British army would certainly be granted by the British Parliament if the expenditure for the fleet could simultaneously be decreased without sacrificing the two power standard—that is, if Germany would agree to a mutual limitation of naval armament. This direct hint was given at Kronenberg in August, 1908, but Kaiser William was not romantic enough to agree to this method of making the world happy."

Walk to Your Meals Like a Man

Eat What You Will and Learn to Enjoy Food and to Digest It.

HERE'S THE SECRET, FREE.

Make up your mind after reading this that you will let the next meal hold no terrors for you.

You can enjoy it. You can digest it. All that is needed is to give nature the juices she lacks, to give the stomach a chance to remove the terrible irritating acids, alkalies and gasses which turn food and nourishment into gas and decomposition.

When a system is run down and depleted it needs building up. Ashes won't rekindle a fire and wrong digestive fluids will not take proper juices from food, no matter how good the food is.

Is this common sense? Men spend years and even life experimenting on the human system, what it lacks in disease and what it needs in perfection. This knowledge is known to every physician or should be. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are compressed natural vegetable and fruit essences which when mixed with the saliva of the mouth go into the stomach capable of digesting a full meal and they digest it to the uttermost shred. Then such a meal does a man good and it gives to him the means to overcome stomach troubles. Forty thousand physicians use these tablets and charge you for writing a testimonial of their merit which they call a prescription. Any druggist in America or Canada will sell you a box for 50c. Think of it. Every druggist carries them. Here's common sense again. Don't this tell you there is merit? Go to your druggist today, buy a package and walk up to your meals knowing that they will not cause you pain. Send us your name and address and we will send you a free trial package by mail. HAECKEL TO TALK ON DARWIN.

Berlin.—The one hundredth anniversary of Darwin's birth, February 12 will be widely celebrated in German scientific circles. Most interesting festivities will take place at the University of Jena, where Germany's greatest Darwinian professor, Ernest Haeckel, will deliver an address which will be notable because it will mark Prof. Haeckel's formal retirement from professional life.

There is said to be no connection between this circumstance and the charges of diagram "faking" recently launched against Prof. Haeckel. That the famous savant's reputation will not be seriously impaired by the attacks of his rivals is apparent from the interest being taken in the project to hold a national celebration in recognition of the glory his life and works have shed upon German science.

Scholars representing all branches of learning have joined the Committee of Arrangements. It is probable that the committee will decide to honor Prof. Haeckel in some enduring form, such as the creation of a museum, laboratory, or library, bearing his name at the Jena University.

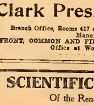
SCIENTIFIC TREATMENT

Of the Renowned Specialist DR. J. J. THOMAS



Dr. Thomas And Staff of Specialists.

Offer you the large and valuable experience of the longest established and most reliable specialists in Little Rock.

My success has come as a reward of ability and honest, earnest and scientific application of thorough understanding. There is not another physician or specialist anywhere who treats Diseases of Men and Women as I treat them. This is a fact that should be duly considered by those who have repeatedly been disappointed in their efforts to obtain a cure. In no other branch of practice has medical science so lagged and the forms of treatment now commonly employed among the profession are based upon theories that have been handed down through generations of doctors. As evidence of this is the prevalent inability to successfully cope with those ailments peculiar to men and women.

I SUCCESSFULLY TREAT BLOOD POISON, NERVOUS DEBILITY, VARICOCELE, STRICTURE AND ALL URINARY, KIDNEY AND BLADDER AND PRIVATE DISEASES.

COUNTY OPTION LAW REPEALED

The Measure Is Compromise and Friends Believe It Will Pass Senate—Provides for Ward Option.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—The Proctor-Tomlinston county option repeal bill was passed by the Indiana House of Representatives this afternoon.

The Kleckner bill, substituting township and ward local option for county option, and understood to be the Democratic platform measure, failed to pass for lack of a constitutional majority of 51.

The vote on this bill was 48 to 47.

Followed Hot Debate.

The passage of the Proctor-Tomlinson bill followed the hottest debate of the session. It was agreed upon as a compromise measure by the Democratic majority of the house. There were 10 Democratic representatives, however, who voted against the bill. Four Republicans voted for it.

Champions of the Proctor-Tomlinson compromise bill express confidence that their bill will pass the Senate, which is controlled by the Republicans. A few Republican senators are said to favor the repeal of the county local option law, but they have refused to make public their attitude on the Proctor-Tomlinson bill. Democratic house leaders expect to bring the Kleckner platform bill up for consideration again in the house, and, if possible, pass both bills to the Senate.

Provides for Ward Option.

The Proctor-Tomlinson bill which passed the house today provides for incorporated town and city ward local option. It would enforce prohibition in the rural districts. It allows but one saloon to 500 inhabitants and does away with saloons owned by breweries and operated by their agents. The bill increases the present license according to the class of city.

HAINS' LAWYER IS ARRESTED

Held in Connection With Plot to Release Mercer From Tombs.

New York, Feb. 11.—Investigation of the plot to release Remington Mercer from the Tombs prison, which caused the arrest last night of James A. Shay, formerly of counsel for Thornton J. Hains in the Annis murder trial, was begun today by the city authorities.

District Attorney Jerome, who caused Shay's arrest, said that no suspicion of any kind was attached to John F. McIntyre, who has been mentioned by Mercer in a statement made last night.

Commissioner of Corrections Barry and Warden Flynn of the Tombs prison, after an examination of the two keepers arrested by order of District Attorney Jerome on suspicion of connivance in the alleged plot for the escape of Mercer, declared late today that nothing in the evidence submitted had gone to prove participation in the jail delivery plot, if plot there had been, of the two keepers.

The case against Shay on the charge of aiding and abetting Mercer in an attempt to escape from prison was adjourned until Monday.

SOCIALIST BANNER REMOVED

No Trouble at Taft Visit to New Orleans.

CONFIDENCE.

We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can cure constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all costs if we fail.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels and make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous and often fatal.

Constipation is caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy evolved the labor of the world's greatest research chemists. It possesses all the best qualities of the remedial active principle of the best known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They have a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause any inconvenience whatever. ENGLISH DIPLOMAT SEES VON BUELOW

Much Curiosity in the Conference—Edward Slightly Ill, but Keeps Prearranged Engagements.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—Intense curiosity is being displayed by the German people concerning Sir Charles Hardinge's conference with Chancellor Von Buelow last night. The authorities, however, maintain the strictest reticence except to state that every subject was touched upon in which the policy of both nations is interested and that the result of the discussion was most satisfactory to both sides. It is understood that before the departure of King Edward, Sir Charles will have a conference with the chancellor.

The indisposition of the king, who was suffering today from a mild attack of bronchial catarrh, is so slight that he was able to carry out the greater part of the prearranged program without inconvenience.

Accompanied by the queen and emperor and empress, his majesty paid a lengthy visit to the Emperor Frederick museum. The royal party afterwards dined with the crown prince and crown princess at their palace, after which they attended a gala performance of Sardanapalus at the opera house.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. Snodgrass & Bracy.

Farmers' Column

THEIR RELATIVE VALUES.

As to the relative feeding value of cottonseed meal at $25 per ton and oil meal at $30, it depends very much on what it is to be fed with, and whether the feeder has hogs to follow his cattle. If he is feeding corn alone he can get flesh-formers considerably cheaper from the cottonseed meal, even at the same price, than he can from the oil meal.

Cottonseed meal at the rate of 3 or 4 pounds per day can safely be fed to cattle, even if there are hogs to follow. Cottonseed meal fed exclusively, or more than 3 pounds per day, is likely in time to have some bad effects on the cattle, and most certainly on hogs.

In short, cottonseed meal is richer in protein than oil meal. Oil meal, however, is the most palatable and safest.

There appears to be quite a difference in the various brands of cottonseed meal, depending on the locality in which it is grown.

The meal from cotton grown in the western part of Texas is not as valuable as the meal from cotton grown in the central portion of the cotton belt.

Corn and clover pasture forms a nearly balanced ration and there will be little danger of injuring the breeding qualities of the pigs if they are allowed plenty of corn and the run of a good clover pasture.

CARE OF THE YOUNG HORSE.

Work with young horses intended for next season's work while you have time this winter. Halter and stall them, groom them daily and harness them frequently so that they become accustomed to your working with them. It requires time for the young horse to find out many things required of it in regular work. If it is first taught the feel of the halter and harness there will be less for it to think about when it is hitched up for work. A well broken horse is worth much more than one poorly broken. In selling the horse that is the first inquiry of the buyer.

FEEDING YOUNG TURKEYS.

For food the first few days give hard boiled eggs chopped fine, bread softened in milk, cornmeal wet up in milk, etc., three or four times a day. They must not be allowed to go hungry nor to eat food that has soured. Give milk to drink. If confined on floor by reason of cold weather or storms give green food chopped fine and mixed with their rations and hay seed to scratch in. As feathers begin to take place of the down they may be allowed to range somewhat.—W. T. Eastwood.

LINCOLN DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Exercises to Be Held in the Schools—Banquet at Marion Tonight Principal Feature of the Day.

The centennial anniversary of Abraham Lincoln will be observed in Little Rock quite generally. Appropriate exercises will be held in the schools, and flags will be floated from those school buildings which possess them. All federal offices will observe the anniversary of the birth of the martyred president. Members of the G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps, the auxiliary body, will fittingly celebrate the day, and after nightfall an elaborate banquet and celebration, in which many of the prominent citizens of Little Rock will participate, will be held at the Hotel Marion.

Superintendent of City Schools B. W. Torreyson said yesterday that the schools would observe Lincoln's centennial anniversary by appropriate programs of recitations, songs, essays and readings about Lincoln. No holiday, however, will be allowed the pupils as a body.

The banquet at the Hotel Marion tonight will be generally attended by the members of the G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps, as well as by many other prominent local citizens. Covers will be laid for 200 guests. Several of the persons who will participate in the banquet knew Lincoln during his lifetime and some of them were his close personal friends.

CUMBERLAND PLANS A HARD SCHEDULE

Twenty-one Games to Be Played by the Clarksville School—Team Already Doing Light Practice.

Special to the Gazette.

Clarksville, Feb 11.—The Cumberland College baseball team has for the past two weeks been doing light practice work in order to fit them for the hard schedule that has been arranged. Edgar Cowan, who played with the Hot Springs team of the Arkansaw State League last season, has been coaching the team.

Coach Cowan has arranged a systematic course of exercise for the men to undergo each day, which will put them in the best condition for hard practice when weather conditions permit. There are about 30 men trying for places on the team and from this material Cowan expects to develop one of the fastest teams in the state.

The schedule arranged for the Cumberland team is long, consisting of about 25 games. Henderson College opens the season here on the 2d and 3d of April. The Cumberland team will then go to Fayetteville, where it plays the University on the 8th 9th and 10th of April.

Coach Cowan will bend every effort to have his team in such condition as to make a good showing against the University. The games with Henderson will be a great advantage to the local college men in their games with the state institution, as they are about one week before the games at Fayetteville.

The Board of Directors of the Saratoga Racing Association met today and elected R. T. Wilson Jr. president in place of Francis R. Hitchcock, resigned, and J. Harry Alexandre, vice president, in place of Harry Payne Whitney.

The association will ask for the usual racing dates during August at Saratoga.

AFTER-EFFECTS OF THE GRIP

This Elkhart Woman's Experience Is of Value to Those Who Still Suffer.

The danger from grip is seldom over when the characteristic symptoms, the fever, the catarrh, the headache and the depression of spirits pass away. The grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration and even consumption. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence.

Mrs. Alfred Shook, living on R. F. D. No. 3, Elkhart, Ind., went through an experience which should be of value to many grip sufferers. She says:

"A year ago this winter I had an attack of the grip and was sick from its after-effects all through the summer. After about a month I became so weak and run down that I was obliged to go to bed where I stayed for three months. I suffered from pains in my head, through the temples, and in the back of my neck. I also had awful backaches. I didn't have any appetite and there was always a pain in my stomach. It seemed as though I was hungry all of the time but couldn't eat anything. I was completely run down and lost a great deal in weight.

"I tried several medicines with no help and was under a doctor's care but he did not cure me. My neighbors told me about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I gave them a trial. It was not many days before I felt better and I took the pills until I was entirely cured. I have gained in weight and do not have a sick day now."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases of the blood and nerves, such as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

TRADESMAN'S REVIEW

New Industries and Industrial Development Is Noted.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb 10.—The more important industries located in the Southern states during the week ending today are indicated in the following list which is obtained from The Tradesman. With each succeeding week the list of new industries increases in number and amount of capitalization involved and this fact, taken in connection with the very optimistic reports received by The Tradesman from its correspondents throughout the South, would seem to be a strong indication of gradual and general improvement in business conditions. Glancing over the list of new industries for the week past it will be noticed that some of the more conspicuous items are as follows: An electric light plant and waterworks in Alabama, a $10,000 milling company and a $100,000 tire company in Arkansas, a $250,000 cotton mill in Georgia, two telephone companies in Kentucky, three oil companies in Louisiana, four lumber companies in Mississippi, several mining and construction companies in Missouri, a $125,000 hardware company and a $700,000 gas and electric company in North Carolina, a hardware company in Oklahoma, a $200,000 rendering plant, a lumber company and a grain elevator in Tennessee, four hardware companies in Texas, a $100,000 furniture factory and a $300,000 iron works in Virginia, and an ice factory in West Virginia.

Williams adjourned his court of inquiry today to meet in Cleveland on Saturday, February 13, to hear witnesses that have been summoned there.

The Cleveland witnesses are expected to testify as to the effect in that district of the union of the Southern and Union Pacific interests, and whether there was evidence of a lessening of competition.

Favorite for the English Derby

H. B. FAIRIE'S BAYARDO
FROM ILLUSTRATED SPORTING AND DRAMATIC NEWS

New York.—Because of the unsettled condition of turf affairs in this country, more than the usual interest attaches to this year's English turf classic, the Epsom Derby, because of the presence in the race of several candidates owned by American turfmen. In the London clubs H. B. Fairie's Middle Park Plate victor Bayardo, is the favorite in whatever discussion has taken place.

He holds an unbeaten certificate, having won every one of his seven starts, culminating with the Dewhurst Plate, seven furlongs, in which he carried 131 pounds and was timed the distance in 1:29 1-5. Bayardo is by Bay Ronald, not a fashionable stallion, and one whose produce have not thus far been noted as stayers. In all but one of Bayardo's races he was ridden by the American jockey "Danny" Maher. There are several American bred colts in the Derby this year.

Some of the English turf critics did not like the manner in which Bayardo won the Middle Park plate. They thought he did not race like a game colt. To offset this, he is one of the few unbeaten colts of the last few seasons.

Fresno, Cal., Feb. 11.—Jas. J. Jeffries, when informed of the offer of Billy Delaney to match him and Al Kaufman for a $10,000 side bet, expressed surprise that his former manager should offer to bet against him.

"Kaufman could not lick a postage stamp," was his laconic comment.

The winner's time for the 12 miles was 1 hour, 10 minutes, 16 1-5 seconds.

BROWN TO HEAR ELEVATOR CASE

Special Examiner Comes Instead of Interstate Commerce Commissioner Harlan to Take the Testimony.

George N. Brown, special examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, arrived in Little Rock yesterday afternoon and will today hear the evidence in the case of the Brook-Rauch Mill and Elevator Company against the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Railroad to obtain use of the Bunch elevator. Commissioner James S. Harlan was reported to be the official before whom the case would be heard, but according to Judge Brown other business engagements connected with the affairs of the Interstate Commerce Commission rendered it impossible for Commissioner Harlan to leave Washington at this time. He will, however, conduct two cases at Memphis next Monday and Tuesday and will also preside at a hearing at St. Louis February 18. Judge Brown came directly from Washington to Little Rock.

"There is no real war against the railroads," said Judge Brown last night. "Although there is much legislation limiting certain powers and rights of the railroads at this time, I find that the majority of the railroads are willing to submit differences to the commission for settlement and accept the finding of that body without protest. There has been discrimination in the past which the railroads either were unable or did not care to avoid. There seems to be more of a tendency toward harmony just at present than during the past."

The seven members of the commission and the seven examiners are very busy men at present, according to Judge Brown. The docket contains about 500 cases which must be heard soon, and the entire corps of commissioners and examiners is constantly employed.

OPERATORS OBJECT TO THE MINE RUN LAW

Anthracite Men From Clarksville Offer Petition Against the Measure—Goes to Labor Committee of Senate.

In the Senate yesterday morning a petition from anthracite coal operators at Clarksville was read and then referred to the Committee on Labor, which has the coal mining bills under consideration. The operators are very much against the mine-run law passed in 1905 and request its repeal. They also want the Senate to appoint a committee to investigate the coal mining industry. The petition is as follows:

Clarksville, Ark., Feb 8, 1909.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Arkansas:

We, the undersigned, citizens and taxpayers of Johnson county, Arkansas, availing ourselves of our constitutional rights, respectfully represent that we are owners and operators of coal mines in said county, and that the conditions of coal mining in our district, produced by adverse legislation, is such as to almost destroy the business.

Unless the legislature calls a halt on further adverse legislation and comes to our relief by repealing the unjust and destructive "mine-run law," enacted in 1905, the only alternative left us as we now see it is to close our mines and abandon our property.

Before the passage of the said "mine-run law" the mine operator in this district was powerless to resist the enormous exactions of the Miners' Union and were by their exactions prevented from operating their mines advantageously either to the operator or to the miner digging the coal.

The mine-run law now in force adds to the exactions of the Miners' Union and requires the operator to pay for everything the miner sends up in his car, which includes slate, dirt, slack and all of the impurities produced in coal mining. These combined average about 50 per cent of the total tonnage produced.

On the "mine-run" basis there is no incentive for the miner to make marketable coal. The only incentive he has is to make tonnage, therefore, he shoots his coal hard, using double and treble the amount of explosives that should be used to make marketable coal, thereby shattering the coal that is left in lump form so that it will not stand handling and does not make good marketable coal.

In addition to this, the band rock is shattered and the draw slate is brought down by the force of the shot, blowing and mixing the rock with the coal and slack.

The mine-run law as it now stands is ruinous to the mine owner and destructive of property rights.

Because under it 50 per cent of the tonnage we have to pay for is waste and yields nothing.

Because 35 per cent of our property is blown into slack, thus destroying coal that if properly mined would be marketable coal and yield a profit.

Because the manner of shooting the coal now employed by the miners and over which we are powerless to control, is such that a very large per cent of the coal which is not blown into slack is so shattered that it is rendered practically unmarketable.

Because it increases the yardage expense 60 per cent.

Because it increases the dead work in the mines, which is a very expensive part of mining, 100 per cent.

Because more than 6 1-2 per cent of the tonnage sent out by the miner is slate and is not only a dead loss that we have to pay for, but is so mixed in with the slack that it is seriously damaged and is so mixed in with the coal that it entails a great expense to remove it, notwithstanding the fact that the Miners' Union recognizes the fact that the miner should mine his coal clean and so contracts.

Because so much slack is unnecessarily produced that we cannot find a market for it.

Because we cannot run our mines and pay for slate, dirt, slack and other impurities unless we can sell the slack.

Because we cannot find a market for our coal in the poor and shattered condition in which it comes from the miner.

Because these conditions not only confiscate from 25 to 35 per cent of our property, but increase the cost of production to such an extent that we cannot get upon the markets with our coal.

We have one of the best coals of the United States, capable of competing on the market with any coal when properly mined, but under this law, with the increased cost of production and poor condition in which the coal comes from the miner, we are helpless and are driven from the markets, not only of other states, but from our own state.

Today the mines from other districts and states are supplying practically all the coal used by the people of our own state.

During the past 12 months we were able to run our mines an average of only 72 days, and then at a loss. Is it right that our property should be destroyed as it is under the present law and that our mines should be idle as they now are?

Before the enactment of this law the miner in the Spadra field earned from $3 to $11 per day, the highest wages paid to coal miners in the history of the world, and certainly it can do them no serious injury to return to the plan that yielded them such handsome wages.

We earnestly ask that the "mine-run law" of 1905 be repealed and that if not repealed your honorable body enact a law exempting the anthracite coal fields of Arkansas from the provisions of said law.

We also respectfully petition you that the anthracite coal fields of Arkansas be exempted from the provisions of the bill now pending before your honorable body known as the "shot-firing" bill, because shot-firing is not hazardous in the anthracite coal fields.

Mines have been operated in the Spadra field for 30 years, and during that long time not a single explosion from shot-firing has occurred.

We assert that the coal dust in this field is nonexplosive and with proper ventilation no gas, therefore, no danger from shot-firing. There are quite a number of very small mines in these fields that employ but few men and the employment of shot-firers would entail an extra and needless expense upon them and in addition would result in the curtailment of the output of the mines, which would necessarily increase the cost of production, which is now burdened beyond endurance.

We assert that the representations we have herein made are true, and we believe that the anthracite coal industry of the state is of sufficient magnitude to require a full and thorough investigation at your hands before enacting any law affecting its interests.

Therefore we request your honorable body to appoint a committee of your members at as early a date as possible with power to summons witnesses, administer oaths and take testimony, to the end that you may ascertain the real facts and conditions with reference to this industry. Respectfully submitted.

DRUGGIST SAYS COOPER WOKE UP RECENTLY

Westerner Claims Everybody Will Have to Take His Medicine Eventually.

New York has never before witnessed such a spectacle as may be seen every day at Broadway and Ninth street. It is here that L. T. Cooper, the Western stomachologist, who claims that stomach trouble is at the bottom of all chronic ill health, is meeting the public.

It would be difficult to estimate just how many people call to talk with Cooper during a single day. The store where he is holding forth seems to have become the Mecca for ailing people in New York, and the amount of medicine he is disposing is enormous. In addition to what he sells himself, druggists generally throughout New York are handing his preparations out in unlimited quantities.

A leading druggist said recently: "The public seems to have lost its mind over this man Cooper. Personally, I don't know anything about his medicine. We had nothing to do with his coming to New York and he has until recently sold his preparation entirely through one company. I suppose he thought New York was like one of his Western towns and everybody could be supplied from a corner drug store. He woke up about a week ago and put it on sale everywhere. Since then we have been selling it. I don't know how long this demand will last, but I have never before seen anything like it."

In an interview Monday afternoon Cooper said: "I am not making any wild claims for my medicine. All it does is to stimulate the gastric juices and regulate the digestive organs, but people do not realize how splendid their health would be if only their stomachs were not languid and enfeebled by years of abuse.

"Nine out of ten people who have called today have been sent here by others. Sooner or later every tired, half sick man and woman in New York is going to try my medicine. They can't help it. After I leave New York I shall take two months' rest and then go to London to introduce Cooper's New Discovery in England."

Among New Yorkers who have recently become enthusiastic on the subject of Cooper's medicine is George J. Scott, of No. 274 West Nineteenth street, who said Monday afternoon: "It is hard to realize that any medicine will do all that is claimed for it.

"I have taken all kinds of medicine for ten years and this is the first I have ever found that was worth two cents. I have had rheumatism constantly for ten years and have spent a quarter of what I made for doctors and medicines. I might have taken so much rain water for all the good they did me. Before I had taken this Cooper's New Discovery a week, I realized it was worth something. I have taken it a month and I am as well as I ever was in my life. I have no rheumatism and eat like a horse. I feel like doing something now, where a month ago I hated to walk a block. When I first bought it I thought it was another fake, but now I know better. All the other stuff I have taken was worth nothing; this is worth ten, yes, twenty times what they ask for it."

Cooper's New Discovery is now on sale at leading druggists the country over. We will send a booklet in which Mr. Cooper tells the reason for most ill health, to any one upon request. The Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio.

Abraham Lincoln Was Born One Hundred Years Ago Today

His Friendship for the South and His Respect for Southern Men

Abraham Lincoln, Born in Hardin County, Kentucky, Feb. 12, 1809. Died at Washington, April 15, 1865

...ties Warren Wilhelm, Author of "The Story Life of Abraham Lincoln."

Abraham Lincoln's grandfather came to Kentucky from Virginia with Daniel Boone, and is Kentucky—in the South —Abraham Lincoln himself was born. Col. Henry Watterson, today American's most famous Southern man of letters, in his splendid tribute to Abraham Lincoln, has this to say of the president's Southern connections:

"He was honored in Southern states. He and all his ...tes were Southerners. Although he left Kentucky when but a child, he was an old child; he never was very young and he grew to manhood in a Kentucky cabin; for when he left Illinois in those days it was a backwoods, rather, grown since somewhat out of proportion. He was in no sense what we in the South used to call 'poor white trash.' He was, perhaps, probably, perhaps, but assuring the appellation, of the class of small farmers, and at the end of a prosperous career, which swept away from the courage of a handful of those settlers, he was stripped and before he was of legal age, a freeholder again. The first boss was a Kentucky gentleman.

Lincoln's Brother Friends.

Lincoln's first friend in Springfield, Illinois, Joshua F. Speed, was a Southerner. Speed became his bosom companion. They shared a bed together and slept several nights. Mrs. Lincoln's first visitor was Mrs. Speed, a Southern woman, to visit Speed in Louisville. After Lincoln and Mary Todd were married they often returned to the "old Kentucky Home." Lincoln was presented by marriage with John C. Breckinridge, also a gentleman of Kentucky, and of whose ...e often took occasion to say he was "very dear."

In fact, while a member of Congress Lincoln made his ...le journey to the South on record.

COTTON MARKET HAS SUPPORT

Trading Was Nervous and Unsettled, However, With Close Barely Steady—Southern Spots Unchanged.

New York, Feb 11.—The cotton market had quite a good deal of support today, but continued nervous and unsettled with the close barely steady, at a decline of 2 to 6 points. Sales estimated at 160,000 bales.

The market opened steady, at a decline of 1 to 3 points, with the active months selling 2 to 4 points net lower right after the call, owing to disappointing cables, liquidation and local bear pressure. At the decline to 9.40c for July and 9.27c for October, there was active buying, both for the account of some of the large spot houses and through commission houses. These demands checked the downward tendency and during the middle of the day prices sold 1 to 5 points net higher, with late months relatively firm. Buying orders were withdrawn on the advance, however, and later the market again weakened, owing to talk of shipments here from the South for delivery on March contracts, liquidation by early buyers and a renewal of local bear pressure. The close was at very nearly the lowest of the day.

Southern spot markets officially reported early were generally unchanged to 1/8c lower. The report of the National Ginners' Association that 12,814,000 bales had been ginned to February 6, and that no cotton remained to be ginned except in a few counties of Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma, together with continued dry weather in the Southwest, may have helped the rally after the opening, but did not figure largely in the market. The New York market will be closed tomorrow, reopening for business on Saturday, but Liverpool and New Orleans will be open tomorrow as usual.

Receipts at the ports today were 20,023 bales, against 36,003 bales last week, and 26,159 bales last year. For the week, 193,000 bales, against 251,633 bales last week, and 177,782 bales last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 6,554 bales, against 5,922 bales last year, and at Houston, 10,180 bales, against 6,659 bales last year.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

Grain

Chicago, Feb 11.—Wheat for May delivery sold here today at $1.13 per bushel, the highest point touched since the famous Gates deal in 1906. All of the advance was held and the market closed strong at the top at net gains for the day of 1-2@⅝ to 1⅛c. Corn closed easy and oats and provisions steady.

Prodded on by additional purchases by leading bulls, numerous small shorts were active bidders for May wheat throughout the entire day, resulting in the price of that option advancing to the highest point recorded in more than three years. Offerings in the pit, however, were light. The opening bulge was due largely to an advance in Liverpool of ⅜@½d. The more distant deliveries also opened at moderate advances. With the exception of the September delivery prices during the day did not fall below the opening level, demand being sufficiently brisk to absorb all offerings at firm prices. The bulls were aided in their campaign by the continuation of an unusually lively demand by millers for cash wheat in this country. A fresh burst of bullish enthusiasm in the final half hour carried May to $1.13, where it rested at the close.

The bulge in wheat had no effect on the corn market, which was inclined to be weak.

Profit-taking by local longs had a weakening effect on the oats market, but prices held fairly steady throughout the day.

Despite selling by local packers, provisions held fairly firm all day on covering by shorts, who were actuated by decreased receipts of live hogs. The close was steady, with prices 2 1-2@5c higher than yesterday's close.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—There will be no markets here tomorrow, Lincoln's birthday.

Stocks

New York, Feb. 11.—The dull strength in today's market was ascribed in large part to foreign influences and was an echo of the rout undergone by the bear element in the speculation on the London stock market. The situation abroad has been cleared up materially by the international political adjustments which have been going on and which remove a weight of apprehension that has rested on the financial markets for many months past. Most of the business was done during the early part of the session, the activity declining after the London business hours had passed.

Bonds were firm, total sales, par value, $7,631,000.

United States 2's declined ¼, the 4's registered 3-8 and coupons 1-2 per cent on call for the week.

The defendants are accused of membership in a mob which three months ago called out John Bailey and lynched him.

A gang of 60 "night riders" visited his home several nights later, called out Bailey and his housekeeper, whipped the woman severely and lynched the man.

PROF. SWEARINGEN IS REINSTATED

School Board Reaches Unanimous Decision After Long Session—Principal to Resume Duties Feb. 22.

The School Board voted unanimously at its meeting last night to reinstate C. S. Swearingen, principal of the High School, who was suspended Wednesday of last week, the reinstatement to be on February 22. Five members of the board were present, the sixth, P. D. Bolton, being in Missouri.

In reaching this conclusion the board discussed the matter until midnight. The members were placed in a delicate position, having to consider both the interests of the schools and the public. They recognized that the punishment given by Mr. Swearingen to Thomas Sharp, a school pupil, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Sharp, was severe. On the other hand they held that if the principal was dismissed it would have the effect of weakening school discipline.

To convince witnesses that they must respect the orders of his court, Justice Roberts fined the Mexican $3 and sentenced him to five days' imprisonment in the county jail.

Remilous begged to be allowed to pay the fine and costs in consideration of escaping jailing, but Justice Roberts was obdurate, even though he lost his costs.

LEMP CASE WILL PROCEED

Judge Will Overrule Motion for Decree—More Witnesses.

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—Before the trial of the divorce suit of Mrs. Lillian Handlan Lemp adjourned today until Saturday, Mrs. Lemp's attorneys announced they will file a motion Saturday asking that a decree be entered in her favor as it now stands. It will bar out the testimony of William J. Lemp Jr. and all of his witnesses, if granted. Judge Hitchcock told the lawyers he would overrule the motion and would hear the case to the end.

More Witnesses Called.

A. H. Handlan, father of Mrs. Lemp, was called as a witness today. He testified that on several occasions Lemp had talked with him in reference to getting a divorce from his daughter.

"He told me he did not think my daughter could get a divorce because she was a Roman Catholic, but he was willing for her to have it," said Mr. Handlan, who was on the stand only a few minutes.

G. G. Pabst of Milwaukee, a brother-in-law of the defendant, was one of the witnesses to the ante-nuptial agreement between Mr. Lemp and Miss Handlan, that if children were born the mother would not attempt to influence them in a religious way.

LABOR LEADERS ON IMMIGRATION

Secretary Straus Says Work Is Not to Be Governed by Exigencies of the Movement.

Washington, Feb. 11.—At the conference of leaders of organized labor with Secretary Straus of the Department of Commerce and Labor today criticism of present immigration laws was made by nearly every speaker, including President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor; Warren S. Stone of the Locomotive Engineers, and President Valentine of the Molders' Union. Mr. Valentine declared conditions affecting unemployed workmen were worse now than in the panic years of 1873 and 1893.

He said that in Detroit 1,100 molders were walking the streets, while positions were being furnished all through the division of information to molders who just arrived in America. He urged restriction on immigration.

Straus Points Out Obligations.

Secretary Straus pointed out that the United States international obligations as old as the country itself, which could not be abrogated even when it might seem temporarily advantageous to do so.

"If we were to undertake that," said the secretary, "from the standpoint of amity and international intercourse our action might be tantamount to a declaration of war with a foreign power."

The sharp issue between Secretary Straus and Commissioner Neill in their views as expressed before the conference and a tribute paid to Secretary Straus featured today's session.

Straus Complimented.

President Gompers, speaking to the assemblage, expressed regret that Secretary Straus was not to continue at the head of the Department of Commerce and Labor in the incoming administration and on behalf of organized labor extended thanks to the secretary for his thoughtful consideration of laboring men and their interests.

Secretary Straus responded that he did not propose to relinquish the work entirely, but expected to continue it as a private citizen. He said he hoped at no distant time to see the National Council of Commerce, which had been organized through his efforts, brought into intimate relations with a similar organization of the representatives of labor.

JUSTICE GERARD HEARS CRIMINAL LIBEL CASE

Reserves Decision of Rockefeller-Star Suit—Justice Dowling Overrules Demurrer to Indictment.

New York, Feb. 11.—Decision was reserved by Justice Gerard in the Supreme Court today after he heard arguments upon the writ of habeas corpus obtained by counsel for Samuel S. Carvalho, Bradford Merrill and Edward Clark, the officers of the Star Company, publishers of the New York American, in the prosecution for criminal libel instituted by John D. Rockefeller Jr. It was contended that the defendants as officers of the corporation could not be legally held as responsible parties for the alleged libel in any criminal effect it might have.

Justice Gerard said he considered that criminal intent or actual participation must be proved and that unless it be held that the mere publication of a newspaper was criminal, the contention that actual specific intent need not be proved would hardly hold good. The court said he would receive briefs and reserve decision.

Corporation Cannot Commit Libel.

While the argument upon the writ of habeas corpus was proceeding in Justice Gerard's court Justice Dowling in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court was passing upon another feature of the case. He handed down a decision that a corporation can commit the crime of libel within the meaning of the law and overruled a demurrer to an indictment charging libel against the Star Company.

An indictment was filed on January 6 last, after John D. Rockefeller Jr. had testified that an article printed in the American about him was untrue. Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for the company, contended in a lengthy argument that a corporation could not commit the crime of libel while District Attorney Jerome argued that it could. Voluminous briefs with authorities on the subject were presented.

By the overruling of the demurrer the corporation will be called upon to plead to the indictment within a few days.

SUES FOR LIQUOR PENALTY

Oklahoma Prohibitionist Asks $38,000 From Hotel Company.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 11.—State Prohibition Enforcement Attorney Caldwell today filed suit against the Lone Hotel Company, proprietors of the Lone hotel, for $38,000 at the rate of $1,000 per day, accruing for alleged violations of the prohibition law.

The Lone is the headquarters for politicians, members of the legislature and lobbyists.

TWO INDIANANS MEET BY CHANCE

Ex-Governor Durbin and Rhody R. Shiel Pass Time of Day in Little Rock Hotel—Say It's Accidental.

By an accidental till of the die of chance, two men of national prominence in political and business affairs, who were companions in younger days and have been life-long friends, met in Little Rock yesterday. Rhody R. Shiel—everybody calls him Rhody, for all his gray hairs—a millionaire and master politician of Indianapolis, Ind., and ex-Governor W. T. Durbin of Anderson, Ind., a man known all over the country, happened into the city yesterday. Both went to the same hotel and both happened to pass through the lobby at the same time. Then, of course, fate itself would have had a job stopping the meeting.

Mr. Shiel has been in Helena, and has only recently come from Cuba and South America, where he has been spending the winter, investigating his favorite hobby, farm and stock improvement. Governor Durbin has been in the West on business and was passing through here on his way to St. Louis. He arrived here yesterday morning and Mr. Shiel came in at 2 o'clock from Helena, where he has been visiting a friend. Governor Durbin left at 7:45 o'clock last night for St. Louis.

"It's the second time recently I have met Durbin in the South by accident," said Mr. Shiel last night, shaking his head at a question that the meeting might have some political significance. "Two months ago I met him in Vicksburg, when I was on my way to South America. We are great old friends, you know. He was my colleague from Indianapolis to the Republican national convention in 1888, and we have been to several conventions since. I'm a dead one now in politics. I'm retired. Don't intend to do another lick of work. Got all the money I want and am satisfied."

Is a Prominent Republican.

Mr. Shiel has been a big figure at every Republican national convention for 31 years. He figured prominently in the last convention at Chicago. While he was not a delegate, he favored the nomination of Taft.

Recently he has been connected in an unofficial way with the Country Life Commission of the federal government, and has assisted the commission in many ways. A recent booklet written by him at the request of the commission has been circulated all over the country.

MGR. KENNEDY MAY GET POST

Congregation of Cardinals Is Said to Favor Him for Cleveland.

Rome, Feb. 11.—A consistory of the congregation of cardinals was held this morning under Cardinal Delai. It is reported that the vacancy in the bishopric of Cleveland, O., was discussed and it was decided to propose that the pope appoint Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American College here, to this post. The rumor, however, is impossible of verification, as all members of the congregation from cardinal to clerks, are under oath of secrecy.

According to reliable reports the consistorial congregation deferred making any appointment to the bishopric of Cleveland until a later meeting. The election of a bishop for this diocese, it is stated, is an extremely delicate matter owing to racial antagonisms.
